

Company: Modu System (M) Sdn Bhd

Sales and Application Engineer

Job Description:

- In charge in the pre-sales support, which include preparation of sales proposal & engineering application
- To study, research and develop conceptual ideas, design and costing for projects.
- To manage pre and post sales relationships with customer
- To liaise with external parties such as customer/vendors for the in progress and post-sales discussion.
- To liaise and work closely with other departments to identify market expectations, trends, and opportunities and understand customer's needs.
- To prepare drawings & document related to the projects, including layout, assembly, detailed drawings with BOM
- To support customer complaint and solve projects technical related issues

Requirements:

- Minimum Degree in Mechanical / Mechatronics / Electrical or equivalent qualification
- Experience in industrial & robotic automation which are relating to material handling solution and robotic application will be an added advantage
- Travelling within Malaysia and oversea is required